1 Why TMHCC — in short

The TMHCC Media & Music Combined wording is the broadest in this peer group. It is the only wording that brings all fifteen covers together in a single contract, and the only one to include Loss of Licence, Commercial Legal Expenses, Management Liability and a genuine standalone Cyber-liability section. Three of the five competitors (Liberty, Allianz and AXA XL) are property / business-interruption / liability packages with no media, professional-indemnity, production-indemnity, cyber, legal-expenses or management-liability cover at all.

- One-stop wording: All fifteen covers in one place — fewer gaps, fewer separate policies to manage.
- Four covers no competitor offers: Loss of Licence, Commercial Legal Expenses, Management Liability and standalone CyberGuard™ (Cyber Liability) — not offered by any of the five competitors reviewed.
- Strong media cover: A broad Media Liability / Professional Indemnity section with reputation management, withdrawal-of-content, data-protection defence costs, virus cover and IP-pursuit costs — plus recently added market-matching enhancements.
- Clear protection: A clean exclusion structure that keeps the cyber/date exclusion away from the liability sections, avoiding the 'silent-cyber strip' seen elsewhere.

Section of cover	TMHCC	Tysers (Zurich)	Yutree (AXA)	Liberty	Allianz	AXA XL	What this means for you
------------------	-------	-----------------	--------------	---------	---------	--------	-------------------------

S1 · Business “All Risks” (premises buildings & contents)	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	All six offer premises/contents material damage on an all-risks basis. Allianz, Liberty and AXA XL are property-led packages with granular MD specifications; TMHCC consolidates IT/premises cover here.
S2 · Property & Equipment “All Risks” (production/entertainment equipment)	✓	✓	✓	🌙	✓	✓	Owned and hired-in production/entertainment equipment. Tysers (Production Property), Yutree (Production property), Allianz (Specified All Risks), AXA XL (‘Technical Equipment’ within Material Damage). Liberty covers entertainment equipment via specified Schedule items.
S3 · Business Interruption “All Risks”	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	All offer BI. Allianz is structurally broader (splits Increased Cost of Working and Book Debts into discrete sections). AXA XL has a full BI section (incl. Rent Receivable / Turnover). Confirm TMHCC S3 expressly covers ICOW/AICOW and book debts.
S4 · Terrorism	✓	✗	✓	✓	✓	✗	TMHCC, Yutree, Liberty and Allianz provide terrorism cover. Tysers EXCLUDES terrorism (no buy-back). AXA XL EXCLUDES terrorism absolutely (Policy Exclusion 3.4, ex-Employers’ Liability) — client would need standalone Pool Re.
S5 · Employers’ Liability	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	Statutory EL provided by all six (typically GBP 10m). Broadly equivalent. AXA XL = sub-section 7C.
S6 · Public Liability	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	Provided by all. Competitors combine Public & Products; TMHCC splits Public (S6) and Products (S7). AXA XL = sub-section 7A.
S7 · Products Liability	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	Provided by all (combined with Public in the competitor wordings). AXA XL = sub-section 7B.
S8 · Money	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	🌙	Money cover provided by all. AXA XL provides Money as a sub-limited ‘Money’ specification WITHIN the Material Damage section (schedule-driven) rather than a standalone section.
S9 · Goods in Transit	✓	✗	✓	✗	✓	✗	TMHCC, Yutree (GIT section) and Allianz (Own Goods in Transit) provide GIT. Tysers, Liberty and AXA XL do NOT have a dedicated GIT section.
S10 · Loss of Licence	✓	✗	✗	✗	✗	✗	UNIQUE to TMHCC across all five competitors. Premises-licence loss cover under the Licensing Act 2003 — highly relevant for venues/festivals.
S11 · Production Indemnity “All Risks”	✓	✓	✓	✗	✗	✗	TMHCC, Tysers (Multimedia & Producers Indemnity) and Yutree (Production Indemnity) cover production costs / cast / negatives. Liberty, Allianz and AXA XL do NOT offer production indemnity.
S12 · Media Liability / Professional Indemnity (E&O)	✓	✓	✓	✗	✗	✗	The heart of a media wording. TMHCC (S12), Tysers (PI/E&O) and Yutree (PI-Media + PI-Events) provide it. Liberty, Allianz and AXA XL provide NO media/PI/E&O cover — despite AXA XL’s ‘Media & Entertainment’ branding.
S13 · Commercial Legal Expenses	✓	✗	✗	✗	✗	✗	UNIQUE to TMHCC (ARAG-style legal expenses). No competitor wording includes a legal-expenses section.
S14 · Management Liability (D&O / EPL etc.)	✓	✗	✗	✗	✗	✗	UNIQUE to TMHCC. No competitor wording includes management-liability cover.
S15 · Cyber Liability (standalone)	✓	✗	🌙	✗	✗	✗	UNIQUE — TMHCC ‘CyberGuard’ is a genuine standalone cyber policy. Yutree offers Computer Breakdown only. AXA XL has NO cyber section and a broad cyber EXCLUSION (only a Data Protection Act 2018 carve-out within Public Liability). Others: none.
(+) Personal Accident & Business Travel	✗	✓	🌙	✗	?	✗	GAP for TMHCC: no standalone PA/business-travel section. Tysers (PA & Business Travel) is extensive; Yutree covers PA assault. Allianz references a ‘Personal Accident’ section in its exclusions (not in the cover list – review). AXA XL

4 Where TMHCC stands out

The areas where the TMHCC wording is demonstrably stronger, broader or clearer than the competitor wordings reviewed:

Strength	Why it matters to you
Widest section count in the peer group	The only wording among the six offering all 15 sections in a single contract — a genuine 'one-stop' media & entertainment package. Three of the five competitors (Liberty, Allianz and AXA XL) carry NO media/PI cover at all.
Four sections no competitor offers	Loss of Licence (S10), Commercial Legal Expenses (S13), Management Liability (S14) and a standalone Cyber-liability section (S15 CyberGuard) are unique to TMHCC across all five competitors.
Standalone cyber that is genuine liability cover	CyberGuard provides multimedia, security & privacy, privacy-regulatory defence & penalties and PCI DSS cover — not merely first-party breakdown, and not a bare cyber EXCLUSION (as in AXA XL).
Broad, well-extended Media Liability (S12)	Wide 'any other civil liability' grant plus employee-dishonesty write-back, Data-Protection Defence Costs (GBP 250k), Reputation Management (GBP 250k), Withdrawal of Content (GBP 250k), IP-pursuit costs (GBP 25k) and M&A auto-acquisition.
Clean exclusion architecture	The general cyber/date exclusion is dis-applied to Sections 12–15, so the liability sections are governed by their own bespoke terms — avoiding the 'silent-cyber strip' seen in a competitor PI section and AXA XL's blanket cyber exclusion.
Favourable fines/penalties carve-back	Non-compensatory damages are written back for libel/slander/defamation awards and for punitive damages where the law permits payment — AXA XL, by contrast, excludes punitive/fines absolutely.
Protective, clearly-drafted claims architecture	Claim notification is an express condition precedent; aggregation, retroactive date and territorial/jurisdiction terms are clearly defined.

5 Recent enhancements to the Media Liability section

The Media Liability section has been further strengthened so that it stands with the strongest media wordings in the market. The following enhancements are available (certain options apply where shown in the Schedule):

- Distributors & Purchasers: indemnity can extend to purchasers, co-producers, licensees and distributors of your media material.
- Worldwide / USA-Canada option: an optional worldwide territory (with USA/Canada separately selectable) where shown in the Schedule.
- Representation costs: costs of attending official investigations and inquiries arising from your media activities.
- Source-protection costs: legal costs of resisting an order to disclose a confidential journalistic source.
- Criminal & regulatory defence: a clear route to criminal/regulatory defence via Sections 13 and 14, plus a contribution within the media section.
- King's Counsel determination: a fair, binding way to resolve any defence/settlement disagreement.

Touring & entertainment money cover and a broadened definition of 'Employee' in the Legal Expenses section have also been added.

7 In summary

The bottom line: For a media or entertainment client that wants the widest single-contract protection — including media liability, production indemnity, loss of licence, legal expenses, management liability and standalone cyber — the TMHCC Media & Music Combined wording offers more covers in one place than any of the five competitor wordings reviewed.
